FR. SHEEDY REMEMBERED ON THE LINKS WEATHER HEAVEN SENT

On Saturday, June 4, 2005, the 24th annual Assumption Alumni Golf Tournament took place at Roseland Golf Course. With a full field competing on another beautiful sunny day provided by Fr. Sheedy, a great day was had by all. Can you believe that three foursomes were from the class of '54? They traveled from British Columbia, Florida, Texas, and California, to play with their classmates.

The defending champions of Joe Ivan, Frank Iatonna, Steve Norton, and Brad Fahringer, once again prevailed with a score of thirteen under par. The longest drive, 330 yards, was won by Tom Flynn. Closest to the pin on hole #13 was won by Jim Palazetti, while furthest from the pin was shot by Ron Sooley. The highest scoring team honour was repeated by the team of Laurie Browning, Carol Dywelska, Lucille Caron, and Sherri Peltier.

The meal provided by Michigan Tavern was delicious again. Thanks to Gary Ulicny for his time, organization, and emcee duties. Special note to the Flynn foursome: The side wager has been paid as a donation to the Alumni. (Yes, Fr. Armstrong, there was some betting going on. Sorry! However, generous donations were made to the Missions).

Mark your calendar for the 25th annual Assumption Alumni Golf Tournament to be held at Roseland G&C Club on Saturday, June 3rd, 2006. Notice and entry form will be in the Spring 2006 Alumni Newsletter. Reserve your tee time immediately because you never know how many from the class of '54 will show up next year.

PRIEST HAS NO 'REGRETS' ABOUT VOCATION - FR. TED GATFIELD, '41

Fr. Gatfield

Marty Gervais, Windsor Star

Father Edward Gatfield sat across from me in a room overlooking the mouth of Lake Erie, and smiled when I asked why he ever became a priest.

He thought about it for a moment, shook his head, then began to speculate. It could've been the result of the tragic accidental death of a fellow pilot in training during the Second World War, and how Gatfield was the one chosen to accompany the body of his dead friend back to Windsor to inform the family. Or it could've been his close association with the Knights of Columbus and his desire to help others. Or it could've been the influence of the Basilians from Assumption College where he had gone to school.

But the truth is, Gatfield finally explained, "there wasn't any big explosion from Heaven, or anything like that- I think God just picked me."

A Belief in Faith

As simple as that. A belief in faith. A belief that all of us are led by something more powerful than us. Some call it fate. Others see it as the work of God. For this 83-year-old priest from Amherstburg, it was the latter: a means of putting one's faith into a decision that would make it the right choice. "I have no regrets," says Gatfield. "I'm happy I became a priest." On that day in June, 1955 when he joined 21 classmates at St. Peter's Seminary to be ordained, Gatfield had a sense of calmness and confidence in where this choice would lead him. "I thought this was a beautiful way to spend the rest of my life - doing things for others. I thought, 'Gosh, I'm a lucky guy.'"

His work for the London Diocese took him to Windsor shortly after ordination. He served in a number of positions, and at a few churches and retreat centers. Gatfield was at St. Clare's before being sent to Holy Cross Retreat House where he remained for five years. He was finally sent to Harrow's St. Anthony's where he stayed for 17 years. Unlike many who became priests in the 1950s, Gatfield didn't spring right out of high school. He had already received a B. A. through the University of Western Ontario. He had also signed up to fight in the Second World War and did "commando" training. "I could eat nails," he said sarcastically. But after the war, Gatfield was in no hurry to rush into the church. He opened a photography business with a friend. "I didn't know anything about it. I was still going to school, but we figured we could do this. And we did."

Life-Altering Change

They specialized in candid photography but by 1949 Gatfield decided it was time to make that life-altering change. "In looking back at that time, you would think there had to be something that made this happen. But I'm still not sure." In any case, June 5th, Gatfield celebrated his 1965 ordination at St. John the Baptist Church here. In the 50 years he has served as a priest, Gatfield doesn't shy away from talking about the sexual abuse scandals that have rocked his church. "There's no defence," he says matter-of-factly but with obvious sadness. "We have all suffered fiercely because of it. We're all tainted." As far as the controversy over the election of right-wing theologian Cardinal Ratzinger as Pope Benedict XVI, Gatfield figures on living long enough to prove all the nay sayers are wrong about him. "Give me an intellectual any time," said the elderly Amherstburg priest. He maintains that the turmoil in the church today is "a good sign" that change is going to happen. And it'll be a change we need, one that will heal wounds and usher in "renewal in the Church," Gatfield adds. This kindly, more liberal-minded priest predicts Pope Benedict will seize the challenge that faces the modern church, and affect change that will be good to everyone. "Of course, I just have to live long enough to see this happen," Gatfield says with a smile.

DR. CARMAN IANNICELLO '68, HE'S SO VEIN

Dr. Carman Iannicello '68

In December 2004, Dr. Carman Iannicello, '68, was featured in The Windsor Star. He and Dr. M. Ristic established the Windsor Vein Centre to provide comprehensive evaluation and treatment for a large number of people who suffer from different forms of varicose and spider veins. "It's a genetic thing. Ninety percent of the time, varicose veins are inherited. It's a defective gene. The defect may be stronger in some people than in others, but it's still there, and you can't alter genetics. We're trying to, but we're not there yet," says vascular surgeon Dr. Carman Iannicello. "Women are 10 to 15 times more likely to have "bad veins" than men because of several reasons. But the good news - yes, there is some - is that you can get rid of the abnormal veins using several different procedures, and you can also reduce your risk factors for creating new ones." The newest treatment for those big, deep veins that hurt so much is called "endovenous radio frequency obliteration", and the Vein Treatment Centre is the only place in Canada where you can have it done. Iannicello and his colleagues have been doing it for more than a year and a half without much fanfare, and clients like the fact there's no anesthetic involved and even better, no pain. "Actually, Iannicello is always looking for new ways to deal with a problem that plagues millions of men and women, especially between the ages of 30 and 60. The newest radio frequency technique is one of the most promising, with an 85-95 percent success rate at six years. The more invasive surgery, by comparison, is 60 percent effective after six years. There's no guarantee you won't create some new varicose veins along the way. That, says Iannicello, all goes back to genetics, with a smattering of lifestyle thrown in." The Windsor Vein Centre is located at 880 North Service Road, Building 300, and telephone (519) 250-4286.

LABEL ED GYETVAI '62, A WINNER!

Angie and Ed Gyetvai '62

(excerpts from Windsor Star - by Sarah Sachel)

Sarah writes:

Ed Gyetvai has always taken it for granted that a toilet brush shouldn't be used to scrub any part of your body.

So with a contest about wacky product labels in the back of his mind, the Oldcastle man knew he had a winner when his wife came home with a new-fangled toilet brush that read, "Do not use for personal hygiene."

"Why would you ever do it?" said Gyetvai, a retired elementary school teacher. "Companies have to do this. People are void of common sense."

Gyetvai won the $500 US first prize in the label contest sponsored by Michigan Lawsuit Abuse Watch, a group with a scornful eye for frivolous liability lawsuits.

He entered the eight-year-old contest for the first time two years ago after hearing about it on a radio show.

Windsor Star

Ed's interest in offbeat consumer issues and press clippings about strange warning labels has been a "hobby" shared by him and his wife, Angie. They would sometimes send in suggestions to "The Jay Leno Show". Many of the greatest lines came from old issues of the monthly "Reader's Digest" from previous eras.

After grade 12 graduation from A.H.S. (as it was known then), Ed went on to the new Windsor Teacher's College in the fall of '62. He began a career with the Separate School Board in Sept. 1964 as a teacher for over 20 years at H.J. Lassaline - specializing in "shop" courses such as woodworking, cabinetry, crafts and even cooking. Ed retired from St. Alexander school seven years ago after a rewarding and innovative career spanning 35 years.

The Gyetvais count their blessings with a family of one daughter (28), a M.D. in London, Ontario, and two sons (26 and 20 years old) - one who played for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the younger one for the Michigan State Spartans. Their oldest son, Steve, had suffered with arrhythmia for many years and died 3 years ago at age 29.

Ed also takes care of a large, old family farm near Chatham - a big job (he says) and regrets not having attended any of the early November annual reunions because they're always at "Harvest Time" and his hours extend into nighttime. See you this coming November, Ed.

Nespolon '60 named "Cartoonist of the Year" by OCNA

Local cartoonist's work appears in each issue of Shoreline Week

by Bill Chapman - Shoreline Week

Editorial cartoonist Tony Nespolon '60 has drawn attention from the Ontario Community Newspaper Association for his biting commentary using pen and ink. Nespolon, whose work appears in each issue of Shoreline Week, was recently named "Cartoonist of the Year" in the OCNA's 2001 Better Newspapers Competition.

Rebecca Ryane, associate editor of one of our sister publications, the LaSalle Post, submitted one of Nespolon's cartoons for the competition. The winning cartoon, entitled "A Pie in the Sky Gondola", was one of 31 entries received and featured the noble idea of linking Detroit with Windsor with a gondola system.

The OCNA wasn't the only group to honour Nespolon for the award. Earlier at a LaSalle Town Council meeting, Nespolon received his plaque and a medal in recognition of his achievement. Nespolon has been drawing editorial cartoons since 1997. His work focuses mainly on satirical images of local politicians. Thanks to his style and word of mouth, his work has drawn attention throughout southwestern Ontario. His cartoons can be seen in 12 publications, including Shoreline Week.

A retired teacher with the Greater Essex County District School Board, Nespolon taught both English and Art. Since retirement, he has continued to remain active in his community and keeps his interest in art alive with his editorial cartoons.

Nespolon remembers travelling to Italy and sketching what he saw. He recalls of his early days as a hobby artist.

Today, give him a story line and he'll come up with an 'appropriate drawing.'

"I really enjoy satirizing politicians," he explains.

Satire comes easy for Nespolon. The hard part, he says, is researching "hot topics" in the news.

Those selections of "hot topics" have paid off with this most recent honour. However, this is not his first brush with the OCNA awards. In 1999, he won the award for "Best Local Cartoon". The enduring picture of Mayor Mike Hurst as a hungry dragon and Warden Pat O'Neil as a gladiator ripped from the annexation fight between the City of Windsor and the County of Essex.

"This is not just an editorial cartoon, it's entertainment! commented OCNA judge Bob Muirhead.

Nespolon continues to concoct editorial cartoons in his home and says he will continue with the folk art that serves as therapy.

Nespolon says that there are two quotes he admires and tries to follow when drawing: "What you really want is a cartoonist that makes you nervous," from Halifax editor Bill Turpin and "La bete d'humanite ... not owned by one political party" from Montreal La Presse's Serge Chapleau.

The OCNA is made up of 265 member newspapers throughout the province.

We have heard that Tony has retired and moved. If so, call Fr. Cullen 256-2337.

RYAN PERROTTE, '95 GUEST SPEAKER

Ryan Perrotte, '95

Ryan Perrotte of the class of 1995 was the guest speaker at the 134th Commencement Exercises on Tuesday, June 28th for the 2005 Graduating Class of Assumption College School.

During Ryan's years at Assumption, he excelled at basketball and volleyball, winning many championships and being part of many All City teams. He won a full scholarship to IPFW (Indiana Perdu at Fort Wayne). He returned to IPFW recently as the assistant coach of the men's volleyball team. A former four-year starter for the Mastodons, Perrotte presently holds the block assist record at IPFW with 429. He is also the current record holder for highest hitting percentage in a match (.850 vs. Ohio State, 1999). Perrotte played an integral role for the team that won the MIVA championship and participated in the 1999 NCAA Final Four at UCLA. That same year, he was selected MIVA All-Conference Second Team. In his four-year playing career for IPFW, Perrotte helped the Mastodons amass a 67-33 record. Since 1999, Perrotte has been a broadcaster with College Access Channel 56, providing outstanding play-by-play and insightful colour commentary for various IPFW athletic events. Perrotte received a bachelor's degree in business accounting, and just recently completed his master's degree in communication.

At the graduating ceremonies, Ryan emphasized to the graduates that he doesn't measure success in life by the position he has attained in it, but rather he measures it by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed.

Here are some excerpts of his speech to the Assumption graduates of 2005: I cannot believe that it has been ten years since I graduated from Assumption. And really, when I think about it, a lot has changed since I first attended Assumption some fifteen years ago. Things were so different then. You know how different it was? The Canadian dollar was flourishing above 80 cents, the Canadian government was at a political deadlock, Bush was president and the U.S. just finished a war with Iraq. Isn't that amazing? Wow, things have changed.

Honourable Mary Margaret Parent, Members of the Assumption Graduation Committee, the Basilian Fathers, the graduating class of 2005, distinguished guests of yours, staff and administration, ladies and gentlemen, I am truly delighted and honoured to be the special commencement speaker this evening.

Greatest Achievement?

There is a saying that goes: the greatest achievement of the graduate is sitting through the commencement address. It's not at all hard for me to remember that vivid day of my own graduation exactly ten years ago. Strangely enough, the two things about that day that I cannot remember are, who the commencement speaker was, and what the commencement speaker had to say. My thoughts, like you, were targeted upon my family and my friends and my plans for the summer.

When I was asked back in April to provide an inspiring, inviting, and invigorating speech to you, the 2005 graduating class of Assumption, I was very hesitant because I thought that I really didn't have any magical words to motivate you about entering the next phase of your life, whatever that may be: whether college, university, the working world, whatever.

"Never, Never, Never give up!"

Initially, I thought that maybe I should just come up here and say those magical "Winston Churchill" words, when he was asked to give the commencement address at Oxford University decades ago - "Never, Never, Never give up!" So I thought about it for awhile, and then realized that the answer to my vexing issue was right in front of my face. I am constantly berated by the question: How did you become so successful in life? Great question. However, unlike many people, I do not measure my success in life by the position I have attained in it. Instead, I measure success in this fashion, as described perfectly in this quote by Booker T. Washington: 'Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which she or he has overcome while trying to succeed.' But how do we overcome these barriers to reach that sought after position in life? The answer to this question, as I have just recently discovered, has provided me the foundation with which I've become successful in life. Simultaneously, the answer to this question has also been before each one of you during your tenure at Assumption College School, and is now the foundation for which each one of you can build upon as you enter the next phase of your life.

The answer is this:

Bonitatem et Disciplinam et Scientiam doce me.

Teach me Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge, Assumption's motto.

... Your achievements during the past several years have been nothing less than extraordinary. Your outstanding scholastic achievement today brings forth responsibility and a civic duty to now enter a new phase of your life with the constant reminder that anything is possible, no matter how great the odds. Follow your dreams, follow your heart, follow the Holy Spirit. Let your soul be your pilot on the journey of life. My dream to you as leaders of tomorrow, as people who will be in positions to make decisions of consequence, is to allow morality and a sense of fundamental concern for humanity guide your decisions. You are the products of greatness.

Through your hard work, sacrifice, faith, the making of good choices, with the support of family, friends and teachers, you have all succeeded. During your time in high school, some of you have experienced great obstacles along the road to graduation. Through it all, you've managed to overcome them. Through the virtues of Goodness, Discipline and Knowledge, your experience here at Assumption has prepared each one of you for the next chapter in your lives.

Special Gift

Each one of you have been supplied with a gift, a special gift, unique to only you and you alone. You must utilize this gift in a magical way for others to see and to be touched by your gift.

"Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which she or he has overcome while trying to succeed."

You all have succeeded. You are all successful. It is with great honour and privilege that I say to you now, the graduating class of 2005, Congratulations. Now go forth and change the world and remember along the way to always be proud of the PURPLE AND WHITE FOREVER!

Ralph developed his ball skills while playing for the Raiders, coached by Fr. Cullen in the mid 50s. Ralph has been retired from Canada Post for 6 years and in his spare time enjoys being an usher at the Labatt Centre in London. He spends most of his time at the arenas watching his grandsons play hockey. He and his wife, Jeanette (Forester Collegiate, '56) of 47 years have 4 children and 6 grandsons, 5 of whom play hockey as well as other sports, year round. At Assumption, Ralph played for the Junior Football SSWOSSA Champions in 1954. He then played for the WOSSA senior football winners. On the basketball courts he was a member of the Ontario High School Champions. Ralph also played baseball for the Assumption teams. Congratulations Ralph!

DENISE DUCHENE '78, ACTUALLY AN ACTUARY

Denise Duchene '78

Denise Duchene '78 has become so comfortable in her "adopted home town" of North Vancouver, British Columbia that she likely forgets at times that she is a native of Windsor.

Five years with London Life in London, Ontario followed Denise obtaining her Bachelor of Mathematics degree in 1982 from the University of Western Ontario. While with London Life, Denise completed part of the very rigorous course work and ten examinations required by the Canadian Institute of Actuaries towards her eventual designation as an actuary. It generally takes five to 10 years to complete all of the exams to attain fellowship.

Actuaries are business professionals who apply their knowledge of mathematics – particularly of probability, statistics and risk theory – to real-life financial problems involving future uncertainty. These uncertainties are usually associated with life insurance, property and casualty insurance, annuities, pension or other employee benefit plans, or providing evidence in courts of law on the value of lost future earnings. By applying skills to these situations, actuaries help people and organizations to plan better for the future by reducing risk.

The attraction of the west proved too strong for Denise to resist and in 1987 she answered that call and relocated to the Vancouver area. She was awarded her actuarial designation while in positions of increasing responsibility with William Mercer and with B.C. Hydro, where she oversaw the employee benefit and pension plans for the public utility.

Denise virtually instantaneously embraced the lifestyle that is afforded by the west coast's more temperate climate, abundant natural areas and outdoor activities. She has become a triathlete and was named as the alternate in her age group for British Columbia's women's triathlon team in national competition. Denise is also interested in hiking and has completed the grueling West Coast Trail with her sister Karen ('84) as well as the challenging "Sea to Summit" from Deep Cove to Brookmere.

Travel is an activity that Denise enjoys and finds enlightening. She has been fortunate enough to see much of North America and Europe and has also ventured to the Caribbean.

Since Denise now limits her work schedule to consulting engagements, family activities with her husband David Harris and their eleven year old daughter Alysha occupy more of her time. They enjoy outdoor activities such as golf and downhill skiing as a family. Denise also enjoys performing a significant amount of volunteer work at her daughter's school.

Denise enjoyed her time at the 25th reunion for the class of '78. She is among the class members who traveled the furthest to attend an event that had additional significance to her as it was also her father Jim's ('53) 50th class reunion.

Denise wishes to say "hello" to all her friends and teachers from her days as a Purple Raider. She can be reached at dgduchene@telus.net.

Assumption and McJobs Graduate

Louie Mele '73

(Tom McMahon Windsor Star)

Customers at the McDonald's drive through on Huron Church received special treatment one day in June 2005, when they were served by company president Louie Mele (Assumption grad, class of 1973).

Mele started at that location as a teenager cooking french fries. He was named company president of McDonald's Canada at the end of April 2005. Mele was in town for a visit with his parents, Lina and Saverio, who still live in LaSalle.

Describing himself as the company's best customer, Mele, 50, said he likes to get into the stores. He used his visit to town to check out a number of the McDonald's outlets. "If I'm in a restaurant at lunch time I'll work the drive through and talk to customers. Of course, they don't know who I am which is perfect" Mele said. If you happen to get Louie's business card it comes with a bonus. It can be exchanged for a Big Mac at any McDonald's location.

Mele, who dropped out of the University of Windsor business program after one year, has found his rise to the top also brings academic recognition as he has been asked to speak to an MBA class at the university.

He has one word of encouragement to those toiling over the fries – "I'm a McJobs graduate."

Remember When?

1954-1955

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

High school enrolment was 838 students, of whom 187 were boarders. Fees for Grade 9 were set at $105 while those for the remaining grades were $115. Room and board was pegged at $610. Work was progressing at full throttle on the new high school: "the architect is working on the plans for the first wing of the new high school. It is hoped that it will be ready in September [1955]".

In the winter, the Junior Basketball team won W.O.S.S.A. under the tutelage of Reno Bertoia, who came home to Assumption to garner his first coaching title. But the story of the year was again the Senior Hockey team as they went on to gain their fifth straight W.S.S.A. and third W.O.S.S.A. title in five years. In that five-year period, the Raiders record was 76-6-4. During the season, they won their 18 starts, and outscored the opposition 113-23.

Activities for the year included Student Council, the Social Committee, Weight Lifters, the St. John Bosco Club, the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, the Young Christian Students, the Legion of Mary, the Mission Society, the Band, The Crusader, the Reporter, the Drama Club (which staged "See How They Run", "Monkey's Paw", "Home Sweet Home", and "Arsenic and Old Lace"), the Hobby Club, the Checker Club, the Canadian and American Moms Club, the Dads Club (which packed 1200 people into the gym for a fund raising bingo), the Sea Cadets (only the second Sea Cadets Corps in Canada), and the Oratorical Club (which entered the first ever International Basilian Speech Festival in Toronto). The year also marked the first canned good drive in Assumption's history.

In the spring came the news about the start of construction of Assumption's own high school up on Huron Line. The Reporter noted: The plans are set, the sod has been turned and headway is being made in the building of the new school. However, this undertaking will be done in stages. The first stage will involve the moving of only the ninth and tenth grades. It will be a one-storey building consisting of [the] first ten classrooms. There will be accommodations for a library, offices, activity rooms and locker rooms. Consequently in the new school there will be no lockers in the corridors, but they will be situated in a separate room. Space for a cafeteria has also been made and at one end of it will be a stage which will later open into the gym. The first stage is expected to be ready for next September.

The gym is part of the second stage and will go up as soon as possible. Also included in this operation is the addition of fifteen more classrooms. With the completion of this phase the remaining grades are expected to move into the new school.

In the third and final stage there will be erected a staff residence and chapel. This will complete the operation and it is hoped that this will be accomplished in the very near future. The buildings will occupy a portion of the capacious twenty-three acre property between Tecumseh Road and College Street.

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

This year marked the Centennial of Assumption and the last year of all young men!. Some 781 students were enrolled of which 145 were boarders (a decrease of 20% over the previous year). The boarders paid $1700 for their room and board, the senior day students paid $240 a year and the juniors (grades 9 and 10) paid nothing. The Basilian Fathers sold about 5 acres of land to the Separate School Board. The funds realized by the sale allowed the renovation of the building which was to become a co-educational senior school by Sept. 1971. Fr. Sheedy stated, "We have decided to make a giant step forward... as an example to the rest of the province as to what can be done in faith and hope... Assumption will more or less "fill the void" left by the closing of St. Mary's Academy, providing Christian education for the girls of the west side of Windsor. "

Grades 9 and 10 fell under the Separate School Board, receiving only elementary school level grants with the Basilian Fathers having complete direction. Grades 11,12 and 13 would still remain private grades paying tuition until the government comes through and removes 'the financial barrier'. The teaching staff would be comprised of the Basilian Fathers, the Holy Names Sisters, Christian Brothers and a regular staff of lay teachers.

Championships attained included: Ed Petryshyn's Junior Varsity Basketball team winning both W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A., Fr. Cullen's hockey team winning W.S.S.A., tennis team of the Galambos brothers (Steve and Nick) taking both W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A., and the golf team took S.W.O.S.S.A. At the sports banquet, where Notre Dame's legendary coach Ara Parseghian was guest speaker, Mike Naughton was Athlete of the Year and Denis Smith became the first recipient of the Fr. Armstrong plaque as the school's Most Outstanding Student Athlete.

Around the school, a wide variety of activities were accomplished including, the staging of 'Music Man', 'Royal Hunt of the Sun' and 'Barefoot in the Park'; the Mission Society, Bookfair, a Grub Day, Activity day, Academic Assembly, Can Drive (56,183 cans), Pep Assemblies, Poster Club, Art Club, Chess Club, Crusader, Reporter, Boarder Parents Club, Mothers Club, Darkroom Club, Library Club, Oratorical Club and Math Contests.

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

The school's population continued to rise this year, reaching 1,659 in total, an increase of 8.4% over the previous year. Tuition for senior level students was $335; while room and board fees reached $1600. There were 401 freshmen and 125 boarders.

Principal Father Pat Lalonde utilized the talents of a staff of 92 members this year. By year-end, their efforts had led to the graduation of 297 new Assumption grads.

In his annual report, Father Lalonde noted that the school was able to handle the increased number of students on site by dividing the Boarders Rec. Hall into five different classrooms. He added that $1200/month rent was received from the Windsor Separate School Board for use of the facilities. His words describe the crunch that was being felt at the time:

....Our Math Department uses the Rec. Hall and seems delighted with the situation....Our teachers seem willing to do anything to make the school run better....The total financial picture is becoming more and more acute as the cost of education rises and the number of Basilians and Sisters dwindles....We will raise the tuition from $335 to $400 for the year 1975-76. We hope this will not turn too many students away. I would not want our school to become one that only the rich could afford...

The following sports teams garnered championships for the Purple Raiders athletic program of 74-75: W.S.S.A. titles to Sister Gloria Drouillard's Junior Girls Basketball squad, Mr. Paolini's Freshmen Boys Basketball, and the Girls Curling team. A S.W.O.S.S.A. title was obtained by the Junior Boys Volleyball team (coached by Mr. Renaud) and the Varsity Hockey team, coached by Father Cullen and Ken Billey, which went on to be All-Ontario finalists. Athletes of the Year were Mark Philp and Angie MacDonald, the latter for a third straight year. Mike Morencie and Cathy Miles were Student Athletes of the Year.

School activities included Student Council, Awards Assembly, Grade 13 Dinner Dance, the Christmas Prom and the Senior Prom, the drama students staged "Mame", "Our Town", and a series of "One Act, Plays", the Sports Banquet, Variety Night, the Darkroom Club, Missions, Can Drive, Handicrafts, Hockey Video production, an Activity Day, The Crusader, the Junior Band, the Pep Band, the Concert Band, Ski Club, Poster Club, Outdoors Club, Reach for the Top, Chess Club, Math Contestants and Assumption's first radio station, C.A.C.H. Radio. The Mothers Club, Dads Club and Boarder Parents Club continued their inestimable work in helping the school. Another Canadian Constitutional Conference was organized and run by the History Department.

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

There were 1820 students registered at the College for this academic year, of whom 100 were boarders. Tuition for Grades 11-13 was $500; while boarders paid $2700. The school was so overcrowded that two additional classrooms were created by moving lockers into the corridors.

Father Frank McCabe returned for his second year as Principal, with a staff of 106 priests, nuns and lay personnel. A total of 319 graduates became Assumption alumni as they received their graduation diplomas in June.

Assumption athletes were prominent in their successes during this academic year. S.W.O.S.S.A. Championships were won by the following teams: Mr. Owen's Wrestling team (for the third straight year). Junior Girls Cross Country, and Midget Boys, and Junior and Senior Girls Track and Field Teams. As well, the Midget Boys went on to become the Ontario champs! W.S.S.A. titles went to Junior Football, Badminton, and Senior A Boys Basketball, as well as Sue Montbleau's Junior Girls Basketball squad, and Father Cullen's Hockey team. At the Sports Banquet, Dave Binder and Denise Tower were given Athlete of the Year Awards, while Steve Ratko and Eva Freisinger were noted as Student Athletes of the Year.

Around the school: Father Armstrong's Mission Society received $8269.54 in donations. The Can Drive pulled in 27,000 cans. Other activities included The Crusader, and the work of its photographers; Reach for the Top, a United Nations Conference, Student Council, the Awards Assembly, the Student Concert Band which won the Centennial Music Festival, the Stage Band, the Pep Band, the Assumption Singers and the Junior Band. Mr. Stephens' dramatists put on the play "Man of La Mancha" and a later series of five one act plays. There was a Bowling League, an Italian Club, an exchange with students from Quebec, Chess Club, Oratorical Club, Math Contestants, Radio CACH, and the work of the Dads Club and the Mothers Club, with the Spring Fair and the Fashion Show.

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

Enrollment was up by 10% this year, reaching a new all-time high of 1920 students of which 498 were grade nines and only 96 boarders. Tuition at the senior level was $720. The greatest change that occurred at Assumption happened when Norfolk Campus opened as an annex for the overcrowded conditions as a one year arrangement until the third Catholic high school opened (Holy Names High school with Fr. Hod Marshall as its first principal). Ten of Assumption's feeder schools have been transferred to the new school. The long range projection for Assumption is a population of 1100-1200 students by 1988 (the original population when the school became coed in 1971). Because of the size of the student body and the fact that there were two campuses, there were two starting times. The seniors' schedule went from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the juniors' went from 9:10 a.m. until 3:10 p.m. The Grad 9 and 11 students were bussed to the Norfolk Campus (i.e. the former St. Hubert's School on California St.) brought back for lunch, and then finished the day at Assumption.

Only two championship teams graced the school's athletic history, the Junior Girls' Basketball team as City Champs (coaches Miss Boretsky and Mr. Fera), and Mr. Hogan's Freshmen Boys' basketball which garnered a W.S.S.A. title for the fifth consecutive year.

In extra curriculars, the Student Council continued its hard work to develop school spirit. The Assumption Players put on two shows: 'Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat' and 'David and Lisa'. Other activities included: the Blood Drive, Can Drive, the work of the Senior Band, Stage Band, Quintet and One, Pep Band, Choral Group, E.C.K.O., Chess team, Computer team, Reach for the Top, Prom Committee, Italian Club, Mothers' Club Spring Fair, Fashion Show, Dads' Club, Play day, Academic Awards Assembly, Father Q's Trips, Gr. 13 Dinner Dance, Newspaper the Grapevine, the Crusader, Cheerleaders and finally, a Gr. 13 vs Teachers basketball game.

Other changes included Fr. Larry Finke becoming the new Dean of Residence and using lay dons to replace priest prefects on the second and third floors of the boarders' residence.

The most far reaching announcement of the year came from Tory Premier William Davis, who initiated the continuation of funding for Grades 11 and 12 to be inaugurated in September 1985. This would have massive implications for all Catholic high schools in the province, Assumption being one of them...

1989-1990

(excerpts taken from John Kelly's history 'Assumption High School 1870-1995')

The writer for the Basilian Annals succinctly commented for this year:

Since the Windsor Separate School Board has assumed control and management of the school, the number of Basilians working within it has decreased, and the work done by the Basilians in residence has assumed a much larger spectrum....

Some familiar faces had gone. Father David Weise, the Chaplain, had been transferred away. Father Vincent Pare had retired. Father Hod Marshall had resigned and was taking an apostolate in St. Lucia in the West Indies. But Father Armstrong continued to raise monies for the Missions and Father Agius did maintenance work at the school. Father Cullen supervised the Alumni and did some hockey and baseball coaching. Father Hart (Vice Principal), Father Stortz (Guidance Head), Father Janisse (Resource Centre) and Father Johnson (Biology) continued active in the school.

...Renovations of the chapel, including the new window and new furnishings were completed in November 1989.... Discussion with the City of Windsor were ongoing for the proposed widening of Huron Church Road, which would include an additional two lanes on the school side of the street. Father Joe Redican C.S.B. began his second year as the school's Principal. His staff for the year numbered one hundred comprised of five Basilians and lay teachers. There were 216 graduates in the class of 1990 who went forth with their Assumption diplomas. Several deaths caused sadness in the school community this year. The greatest outpouring of love and affection occurred upon the passing of Father Leon Hart C.S.B., who had been at the school as Academic Vice Principal (1974-1984) and Vice Principal of Discipline (1984-1990), and who died on January 28, 1990. In fact, the school newspaper The Grapevine, published a "Father Hart Memorial", which, in itself spoke volumes about the many lives he touched while at Assumption.

Other deaths included Mr. Bob Lariviere, a custodian at the school for five years and Joseph MacMillan, an Assumption student for four years, who died at age 18 of bone cancer.

For one of the few years in the school's history, there were no athletic championships claimed. Most Valuable Athlete Awards were given to Jeff Grail and Laura Lapine while Joe Barile and Tina Nikitiuk were recognized as top Student Athletes.

Other school activities included: Academic Awards Assembly, the Blood Drive, Talent Show, Christmas Concert, Annual Canned Food Drive (42,284 cans), the Christmas Float, Q-Trips, French Oratory Contest, Student Council, Debating Team, School Reach Team, Crusader, Students Against Drunk Driving, the Grapevine, Italian Club, Science Olympiad, Peer Helping, newly named Parents' Club (which restarted the Fashion Show), Assumption Players (put on 'Sometimes I Wake Up in The Middle of the Night', and Campus Ministry and its retreats.

The Bingo Club donated $10,000 during the year for renovations to the cafeteria, books for the Resource Centre and tech programs.

LETTERS

Dear Fathers:

It's been a long time since graduation in 1953. I appreciate receiving the Newsletter and find it most interesting. I have precious memories of my school days 'Boys Only' Assumption High School, then housed in a magnificent building off London Ave (University Drive). What strikes me was the discipline that a boy had to have that was enforced. My three sisters had gone to St. Mary's Academy (long ago) - a good school for girls only. You may remember my father who owned White's Restaurant and Elbow Room on Pitt Street.

After graduating from Assumption, I attended and graduated from Walsh Institute in Detroit. Upon graduation, I had worked for a small certified public accounting firm in Detroit.

I am retired from both Chrysler and the US federal government. My job position with Chrysler was with Chrysler Financial in auditing car dealerships throughout the North American Automotive Operations. This would involve flying out of Metro Airport on a Monday and returning usually on Friday. The frequent business trips took me all over the US, including Hawaii and also Canada. My employment with the Federal government included internal auditing as a civilian employee with the US Army Corp. of Engineers- Detroit District and with the Internal Revenue Service - Detroit District as a revenue agent. My life experiences also include service in the military as I was drafted in the US Army and stationed at Fort Campbell, Kentucky - home of the 101st Airborne Division which is known as the Screaming Eagles.

After my wife Catherine had passed away about three years ago, I sold my house in Detroit and moved to a new condo in the New Center area of Detroit.

The enclosed cheque is a donation to aid in the production and distribution of the Newsletter.

Sincerely, Harry G. Lukas, '53

News from Doug Wolcott, '45:

For over a year now I have had a newsletter on my desk saying nice things about Tom Zuber. In 1945 Tom had the honour of sitting next to me for all our courses and I would like to believe that all the success he has had is attributable to that circumstance.

Seriously though, I am as impressed by his success as I was by his character, which is everything. As for me, I am long retired as I suspect is true for most of the class of '45. Life has been good, and I say that in spite of recently suffering a stroke which affected my right side, my dominant side. But I am back to walking, with a slight hitch in my giddy-up and have retrained my right hand to do the things it must.

Doug Wolcott, '45

Dear Fathers:

I was overly excited with the Alumni dinner on November 6, 2004. The new high school was great to see. I read the history book on Assumption High School (1970-1995) by John J. Kelly and realized that the school has a remarkable and impressive history. You and Father Armstrong were excellent leaders in sports, as well as excellent academic teachers that made many students proud that they graduated from Assumption.

As a student during 1950-1954, I never really made too many friends, but I enjoyed playing football and hockey. Hockey was my first love, which I love to watch on television. Here in Muskegon, at L.C. Walker Arena, there have been many winning teams over the last 45 years. For many years I skated at L.C. Walker Arena, encouraging other children and adults to learn to skate. I remember Sam Sisco, who graduated from Assumption, refereed many games in the 1970s.

Two students that I associated with most of the time were John Lemay, who helped me learn some basics on how to play hockey, and Theodore Warrow, who played the game of chess with me for many hours.

Marty Kubanek '54

Terry Bachynski, Class of '75 writes:

I was surprised the Alumni organization at Assumption had lost track of me. We have moved several times over the last 23 years, having lived in Calgary, Fort McMurray, Calgary (again) and now Edmonton, and some how, the alumni machine at Assumption always seemed to find me without any effort on my part. So, when a colleague of mine (who's sister is married to Greg Garbula who also attended Assumption) told me that I was on the "missing in action" list in a recent newsletter received by Greg, I was surprised.

Anyway, you know where to find me now. Hopefully I will be able to attend the homecoming in November. We'll see how the calendar works out.

All is well with our family. Our oldest (Jared) is entering 3rd year business school at University of Alberta this fall. Darren begins his first year of University at U of A in the fall as well and our identical twin girls, Emily and Lana, enter Grade 11 at Victoria School for Performing and Visual Arts in Edmonton.

Laura and I just celebrated our 23rd wedding anniversary on July 10th. Laura is a busy Mom, artist, singer and actress. I do my bit to keep the cash flow ahead of the cash burn rate in our house.

We are both active in our church, participating in the music ministry. Most Sundays you will find us leading or helping with the music at mass.

I stopped practicing law about 15 years ago and have had a varied career working in various senior executive roles with a number of companies. I now head a consulting firm, JDEL Associates Ltd., which secures regulatory approvals for large capital and resource development projects in Alberta and other jurisdictions on behalf of our corporate clients. Oil Sands developments, mines, upgrading and refining facilities, power plants and other large capital projects are the types of projects I undertake. You can check out my business at our website at www.jdel.ca. The "JDEL" in the company name represents the initials of our four children. Nothing like a constant reminder of why we do what we do!

Hope to see many of the class of '75 in the fall at the homecoming.

God Bless,

The Lesperance Family

Norman Lesperance ('50) and his wife Lorraine have had many blessings this year. Norm and Lorraine Celebrated Milestone Birthdays, and on May 22nd, they gathered with family and friends for their 50th Anniversary and Renewal of their Vows. Norman retired from the Windsor Police Department in 1986. Norm enjoys Florida every winter, golfing and spending time with his grandchildren. They have 5 children, Susan, Mark and wife Mary, Nanette, Chris and wife Debbie and Linda and husband Frank. Pepe's "little stinkers" range from 23 years to 9 years; Billy, Jason, Bryce, Garrett, Alex, Matt and Michelle.

Linda Presello, Norman Lesperance, Susan Lesperance

Susan Lesperance ('75) is presently teaching at H.J. Lassaline in Forest Glade. Susan returned to Windsor in 1997 after teaching 10 years with the York Region Separate School Board. Susan shares her love of music and arts, primarily choreography, through various school musicals and dramas.

She has had many successful years coaching boy's volleyball.

Linda Presello (Lesperance '81) is a Campus Minister at Assumption College Catholic High School. She is married to Frank (Kennedy '80) for 19 years, and have three wonderful children, Alexander 13, Matthew 11, and Michelle 9. They attend Notre Dame School, and are looking forward to attending Assumption. Linda worked for the Diocese of London for 12 years before walking back into her "old" school. "I am truly blessed to be working at ACS, Assumption is more than a High School. It is a community of faith, family and friends."

LETTERS FROM PRESENT DAY STUDENTS TO ALUMNI

(prepared for the Nov. 6, 2004 reunion)

Dear Class of 1954,

First of all, let me welcome you to Assumption. I wish that you would have been able to attend classes in the current building, but not to worry, traditions and celebrations that were started in the old high school, have been carried over to the new one and continue now, 50 years after this building opened. I myself, being a graduate of 2004 understand what it must be like to walk into a building that you do not recognize. I also had a bit of a shock walking into the renovated sections, but now, with all the photos of all the great sports teams and graduating classes re-hung, the school is beginning to get the same feeling it did in 2000 when I started. I just hope you have the same feeling and that you enjoy your visit to the newly renovated Assumption College School and I also hope that the traditions will last another fifty years, if not forever. William Cox

Anonymous responses from class of '54:

Time flies – enjoy the next 50 years

Keep the tradition going!! Found Memories are FOREVER!

Mitchell Odjick, class of '05 writes to Alumni:

I am a grade 12 student who has attended Assumption for 4 years. I came from St. Frances Elementary School in Windsor. The reason I chose Assumption was because I have always wanted to attend the best high school in Canada. Assumption is known all over the country for its great spirit. It is also know to have the nicest people in the whole city.

I hope you have fun meeting up with old friends and remembering the good times.

Members of the Class of '79 respond: Dear Mitchell, I wish you all the warm, happy memories and experiences that I have felt throughout the years. Good luck to you in all that you do! Jackie Beneteau

Great observations about Assumption. It was the same some 25 years ago! Best of Luck! Cathy Mombourquette

Wherever you end up, you can always come back to ACS for great memories like this weekend. Virginia Z.

It has been a great weekend! I hope you can do the same 25 years from now. Maureen

You know the best kept secret – Purple Raiders forever! This is an important time in your life. Keep the memories – they will shape who you could become. Good luck. A. Knapp

Your memories of Assumption hopefully are as spirited as ours. Keep the faith, good luck and thanks for the letter. C. Tobin

You may never find school memories relived like at Assumption. 5 great years at Assumption, great memories. PN

Elle Mistruzzi writes to class of '54:

I am currently in grade 9 here at Assumption. I am sure there have been many changes to this school since your years of attendance. It must have been very fascinating to be in a school where boarders came, to see what it was like to have kids from all over the world taking classes together. In fact, at Assumption there is a new program called The International Baccalaureate, that will give the kids here who are at a higher academic level, a chance to take special courses that are known worldwide. So, kids all over the world in this program are taking standardized courses and when we graduate, we will all be able to get into just about any university in the world. This is the first year (2004-05) that Assumption has had this program and that is why I decided to come here. Thank goodness this program came to this school because otherwise, I never would have come here and never would have been able to see what a fabulous school it is!

Sincerely, Elle Mistruzzi (Mrs. Dumouchelle's Grade 9 Math Class)

John Ashworth, class of '74 responds: You are in a fabulous school and if you have any doubt about that now, you will not after you have been away for a few years. Good luck with the IB program.

Katherine Arca, class of '05 writes to All Alumni:

I have been a student for four years at Assumption College Catholic High School. The grade school that I attended was St. John Elementary School.

The sports that I have joined so far are badminton and ultimate Frisbee. I've enjoyed these sports and it shows how the Assumption spirit is alive. My future plans are to go to University of Windsor and to take Nursing. This semester is a difficult one since I have all my courses that I need to get into University: English, Chemistry and Biology. It's been a rough semester but I am trying my hardest to achieve my goals.

The things that inspired me the most are the people. The students and the staff members have shown me how to keep going by their encouragement to try my best, do well in life, etc. When my father passed away three years ago, my Assumption family was there all the way. They helped me through good and bad. I will never forget my Assumption family after I graduate, since they have helped me all of my years at Assumption.

John Ashworth, class of '74 responds: Thanks Katherine, we had a great weekend seeing all the old friends. Assumption Spirit is alive and well in the class of '74 as I see it is with you. Frisbee? That's new! Good luck

Well, I hope you have a great weekend at Assumption, reuniting with old friends and teachers. I hope that reading my letter gives you another perspective of high school life now.

in this semester and at U of W! Keep in touch with Assumption – it's special.

Jamie Nykolak, Class of '05 writes:

My Fellow Purple Raiders,

School Spirit! Those two words are what have kept me motivated throughout my high school years so far at Assumption. Those two words have changed my life. Ever since I started grade 9 in 2001, the students on student council have amazed me with their incredible ability to pump up the school. Even with the renovations and all the stress going around the school at that time, the students still put forth their best effort for everyone to enjoy the time they did spend at school. From Frosh Fest to Semi-formal, and cafeteria games to school dances, the student council had brought the word "fun" into Assumption. It's amazing how much enthusiasm these people bring to the school and students with their hard work and dedication to make everyone have "the best years of our lives". I really truly felt like an Assumption Purple Raider who was "bleeding purple blood". It was all of those young dedicated students who helped shape our school and more importantly ...me!

But not only do I give credit to the students who have made my high school years some of the best times of my life but also to the staff. Without the staff, our school would not be half the school it is now. They have helped me grow and mature as a young woman while not only teaching me what you must learn in order to graduate but real life lessons that I will keep with me forever. The teaching staff is so amazing and they are also part of what I love about Assumption. It's all about the people that make Assumption such an amazing school. From the teachers to the students, they're what make me want to go to school everyday. As a Grade 12 student, I can say with no regret that I will be graduating with pride knowing I went to such an amazing school with such amazing people. Assumption is by far the best high school you could possibly attend. Purple blood will always run through my veins now!

John Ashworth '74, Prime Minister of Student Council in '75 responds: The teachers were amazing when I was there too. How do they do that? Keep in touch with Assumption and you will keep in touch with friends and that school spirit!

Student Just Spoke His Mind

Windsor Star by Jordan Press, July 19, 2005.

On the road to becoming valedictorian at Assumption Secondary School, Bob Tran had to give a speech to his classmates. While the other 14 students nominated for the position had the same messages in their speeches, Tran said he did something different. "I just kind of tried talking to the crowd instead of speaking to them," the 18-year-old said. "I just spoke my mind. I actually didn't have anything written down." After that, he was the one chosen to be valedictorian and give the final address at the school's graduation on June 28th. While maintaining an 87 per cent average, he also played volleyball, was a sprinter on the track and field team, a member of student council, part of the multicultural club and helped out each year with the school's canned food drive. On a rainy night during first semester, Bob Tran showed up at school around 5 p.m. to help in Assumption's final push in its annual canned food drive. He and other students had teachers drive them to an area of the city that had not already been covered. The students went door-to-door asking people to donate their "can goods for charity." Tran did that for six hours. By the end of the night, the school had broken its previous record set the year before. (46,000 cans with an average of over 63 per student). It's a memory, Tran said, that shows him how all the students at the school could come together to help others. Next year, Tran will be back at Assumption to gain the six credits he needs to attend university. He had planned to go to college, but changed his mind after taking college-stream courses. Eventually, he wants to study human kinetics at the University of Windsor. It wasn't something he wanted to study originally but after taking an exercise science course at school this year, Tran said he became interested in the human body and wanted to study it.

My flag football team, Hiroshima Force, recently played in Japan's national championship at the Tokyo Dome - unfortunately coming up 6 points short in the end. It would be nice to hear from you. At that time the company had 26 branches and over 400 employees. I am enjoying retirement which Donna and I spend between our home in Burlington and one near Wiarton on Georgian Bay. I have never received a newsletter and since 1955 have only met two classmates serendipitously in Ottawa and in Algonquin Park. My sister Gayle Broad told me about your search for ex students. ATTENTION

ATTENTION: ALL MUSIC LOVERS!!

The Assumption Band is back and on a mission to restore some of its former glory! Approximately 40+ students in the concert and jazz band have been practicing hard all year, even practicing during their lunch hours. Many of these students do not own their own instruments and have to rely on those that the school owns. Unfortunately, these instruments are old, broken beyond repair, and more of a hindrance than help to the students. Therefore, we are in desperate need of funds to purchase new ones. We would also gladly accept any used instruments that you may have. We especially need brass and woodwind instruments. Please contact me, Brian Zanier, Music Teacher, at the school, 519-256-7801 if you can help. Thank you!

Their motto of Goodness, Dicipline and Knoweldge had been my motto since my youth and through my medical career." The priest at his funeral mass spoke of Pat's fine character and adherence to the Basilian motto. Pat retired from the Lynden Clinic after 40 years in June of 2002. BERNIE GIGNAC '63 1945-2005

Bernie died suddenly at the age of 59 while residing in Linwood, California. He had moved out west 10-15 years ago after working for Coca Cola in Windsor. He was an environmentalist but was recently studying real estate. He had completed all the necessary courses and was preparing for his state exam.

As a student at Assumption he played football and hockey for Fr. Cullen. His brother Robert, class of '66 recounted a memorable statement Fr. Cullen made about Bernie's hockey talent, "I don't think I ever had anyone that knew his position as well as Bernie, unfortunately he was too slow to get to it."

Growing up in LaSalle, Bernie would walk from the school to Sandwich St. and hitchhike home every night after practice one season and sport after another. Truly a proud Raider!
