NEWSLETTER #99

Presidents Message—Hunt Hool

June 2015 #99

Dear Alumni:

Hello again. I would like to start off by telling you that the Assumption College High School Alumni Committee has "righted the ship" with regards to the Newsletter, now to be called, "The Grapevine", as well as adjustments and improvements in handling Alumni business. This was achieved by welcoming back Rick and Lil Dumouchelle in a limited capacity. In the end, we are back, but still NEED YOUR HELP! In order to continue producing a semi – annual Newsletter, the Alumni Reunion, and annual Alumni golf tournament, we need you. If you wish to assist in any possible way, please telephone the Alumni office, send a letter, email message, or contact a committee member.

Here are some hard cold facts. The Alumni Association membership is decreasing every week due to lost, deceased, and the lack of interest of Assumption College High graduates since the 1990's. The "good ol' days" are quickly fading into the PAST.

However, don't let this trend discourage you. The Alumni Committee works very hard to keep our purple Raider pride and tradition alive. Assumption is not the "same" school it once was, but what is the same today. It is still a great school, with many things to be proud of. For example, the Senior Boys Basketball Team won its first WECSSAA and SWOSSAA championships since 1984.

Your Alumni Association made a generous contribution to send them off to OFSAA in Ottawa. The Assumption College High School Robotics team was provided financial assistance also.

Lastly, the Assumption College High School Foundation, which I also proudly participate, contributes approximately, $15,000 in scholarships to Assumption College High School students every year.

Therefore, if you kindly choose to donate to the Alumni Century Club or the Foundation, your donation is greatly appreciated, and the money is used for good purpose.

Thank you for hearing my plea, and take care always.

Alumni President,
Hunt Hool

International Baccalaureate student Victoria Cope will major in international studies next year at an American university.

Victoria Cope is headed off to Ohio next year with a great university scholarship, but she might never have received the offer if she'd chosen to go to a soccer practice on a fateful night back in Grade 8.

While still a student at St. Rose Catholic Elementary School, she was encouraged by a friend to attend an information night about the International Baccalaureate program at Assumption College Catholic High School.

"I didn't really want to go

Victoria Cope—Bowling Green State University

because I didn't want to miss soccer practice," she said. As it turns out, going to that meeting might have been the best decision she's ever made. Now in her fourth year of the IB program, the Grade 12 student says it's where she really found herself.

"You really learn who you are as a person," Cope said of the program.

Founded in 1968, the IB program currently operates in almost 4,000 schools in 147 countries, offering challenging programs to more than 1.2 million students. Schools interested in becoming IB World Schools must successfully complete a rigorous authorization process, which typically takes about two to three years.

Now in its tenth year at Assumption, there are around 300 students – about half the school's enrolment – in the IB program. About 110 of those students are in Grade 9, making it the largest IB class ever according to Joseph Ibrahim, the school's principal.

Cope, who will major in International Studies next year, said the reason so many students succeed is because of the atmosphere created by the program's teachers.

"Every single teacher at Assumption is there to help you," she said. "They're always available and there for extra help and support. They understand the value of the program. They're there to see us succeed."

Looking back, Cope said she has no regrets about skipping that soccer practice.

It has lived up to everything they said it would be," she said of the IB program, adding that it provided her with a wealth of knowledge in the areas of time management, coping with stress and critical analysis. "You do make a lot of sacrifices, but it's a lifestyle choice more than anything else. Of course the workload is heavier, but if you enjoy learning, it's nothing you can't handle.

The Junior Girls Volleyball season started out with a bang with three great matches that yielded nine wins. It was clear that the team was going to be a group to be reckoned with. With consistent serving and explosive hitting the season continued on but we played more competitive teams and although the team continued to rise to the challenge, not all matches were won. Unfortunately we lost two matches in six very close games in the middle of the season and the team found itself in the middle of the standings to end the season.

In the playoffs we won the first round convincingly and also won the next round, both in three straight matches. The girls were using spectacular serving, strong attacks and great defense to key these victories. Unfortunately in the semi-finals we met our match in the eventual WECCSSA champions and the season came to an end. However, the team, consisting mostly of grade nine students, brings hope and light of what's to come for the future of Junior Girls volleyball at ACS.

ACS ROBOTICS TEAM 2015

Six months of pre-planning and only 6 weeks to design and build the outcomes set out were achieved.

The Assumption's Robotics team ACS #4716 participated in the Windsor-Essex Great Lakes Regional competition that brought 48 teams from Canada and US together. After the 80 qualification rounds had been completed, #4716 was placed in 23rd position. The robot and team drivers performed well enough to impress the top 8 seeds. ACS #4716 was selected as a member of a top alliance within the playoffs. During the semi-final the robot performed exactly as designed, and achieved all goals, overall placing 5th in the competition.

One of our very own, Alessio Symons (son of alumni, and mentor for #4716, Adelina Greco '85) received FIRST Dean's List Finalist Award at the 2015 Windsor Essex Great Lakes Regional. Alessio, grade 11 student, will be going to WORLDS in St. Louis, Missouri April 22-25, 2015 to compete for the Dean's List, representing his Assumption Team, WECD SB, and the Windsor Essex area as one of our leading youth.

ACS Model United Nations Team

Something new to the Assumption School Community, the Model United Nations Team. The team consists of 12 students. Under the direction of Mr. Sobol and Ms. Nehmetallah, these students travelled to both Lansing and Kalamazoo, Michigan, to attend conferences at which students managed to place second, despite having no previous experience. These students excelled at the new experience and under-pressure situations, while considering ethical and moral obligations of the choices they made and their influence on the international community. Also, a great thanks to the Alumni Association for their generous contribution.

IPFW promotes Ryan "Rock" Perrotte to Head Coach

Perrotte—ACS Grad 1990

FORT WAYNE, Ind. – IPFW Director of Athletics Kelley Hartley Hutton has announced that longtime IPFW assistant coach Ryan "Rock" Perrotte has been tabbed as the second head coach in IPFW men's volleyball program history.

"I am extremely grateful to Chancellor Vicky Carwein, Athletic Director Kelley Hartley Hutton, Coach Arnie Ball, the IPFW volleyball community, alumni, and current players for giving me the opportunity to guide the IPFW men's volleyball program," said Perrotte. "I am so humbled and honored to have the opportunity to lead this program, and to work with such an incredible group of student-athletes."

Perrotte has spent the last 12 seasons as an assistant coach with the IPFW men's volleyball program, and has helped lead the team to the 2007 National Title game, two NCAA Final Four appearances, and two MIVA Championships. He has coached three All-Americans and 18 All-MIVA selections.

"We are extremely excited about Rock being our next men's volleyball coach," said Hartley Hutton. "His deep understanding of the men's volleyball program and its inner-workings, along with his solid work ethic, will allow him to build upon the strong history of this program."

Perrotte takes the reigns of the program from volleyball coaching legend Arnie Ball, who will retire at the end of June with over 500 career men's volleyball victories to his credit.

"I cannot express in words what Coach Ball has done for me throughout my tenure as a player and his assistant coach here at IPFW," said Perrotte. "I am so thankful for his support and mentorship during this process, and over the last two decades. I would not be where I am today without Coach Ball being such an incredible influence in my volleyball career. I am honored to have played, coached, and learned from one of the greatest people in the history of college volleyball."

An alumnus of the volleyball program, Perrotte was named Second Team All-MIVA as a senior, helping the team to a 23-4 overall record, a MIVA Championship, and an appearance at the NCAA Final Four.

Dico Angelo
Captain of 2014-2015 Senior
Boys Basketball

ACS Boys Basketball WECSSAA/SWOSSAA Champs

As the captain of the basketball team Dico Angelo, I am honoured to speak on behalf of the 2014-2015 Assumption Raider basketball team. It all started in November with only a few returning players and a new coach Mr. Chevalier, we honestly didn't know what to expect. For the past two consecutive years the senior basketball team ended up with an even 5-5 record but we knew things were going to be different with several key players who have been playing with each other for over 10 years. Playing in tier 2, we set our goals to a perfect season going 11-0 winning Wecssaa and Swossaa hopefully making it to Ofsaa. All of which was achieved including Massey Mustangs Classic tournament Champs. Assumption was honoured to have two players Mousab Toto and Dico Angelo who were awarded with 1st Team All-City and Hassan Mohammed 3rd Team All-City as all members were also captains of the team. Through all tiers Mousab and Dico were also selected to play in the All-Star Game and supported by the rest of the team.

OFSAA

Going into the season we had one goal in mind which was to make it to Ofsaa and here we were. We knew the competition going in knowing that the last time Assumption won it was in 1969. Ofsaa was a breath-taking experience for many of us who were on the team followed by the support of our school and generous sponsors from the Assumption Alumni's whom we'd like to thank. Unfortunately Coach Chevy wasn't able to make it as he was blessed with a newborn baby girl on March 13th. On March 9th 2015, Ottawa was the destination as Mr. Gabriel the newly Head Coach took on the challenge of preparing us with his previous Ofsaa experiences. The tone was set as soon as we got to Ottawa, upon arrival at the hotel we were treated honorably with individual and team pictures with banners included. The evening was followed by a banquet where two members were awarded as Matt Tran was recognized with the academic achievement award and Dico Angelo for the most sportsmanship award. We had an early first game the next day as we the 10th seed played the 9th seeded Bishop Macdonell. With a rough start we were unable to pull away with a victory losing 45-60. The next day was followed by an even tougher opponent 7th seeded Crescent who later finished second. The game was followed by a close start as the first quarter score was 13-16. They then managed to pull away for a 68-52 victory despite Mousab Toto's 29 point performance. Our last and final game we played in front of a home crowd St. Joseph with a 43-49 loss. It was the end to the best season of our high school careers as heart-felt moment occurred in the locker room for the last time.

Although we lost we still won each other as we've come together as a team with great experiences within the limo bus provided for us, the hotel stay, and the adventures through Ottawa. The Raider moment which was the highlight of the trip was when we went sight seeing as a team. It was a memorable moment as we then knew it was more than just basketball, it was a brotherhood experience that we will look back at 10 to 20 years from now. This all wouldn't be possible once again without the hard work of Mrs. Hebert and Mr. Hebert in being there for us as well as reaching out for sponsors.

"Ofsaa was a breath-taking experience for many of us who were on the team followed by the support of our school and generous sponsors from the Assumption Alumni's whom we'd like to thank."

Brennan Centre of Excellence

The Brennan Centre of Excellence and Innovation is excited to launch new program offerings in September 2015 that may students county-wide will be interested in. Currently, we offer a Hockey Canada Skills Academy that has 92 students in its first year. This makes us the second biggest HCSA in year one! Our numbers will surpass that in 2015 for sure. In September, we will be offering our Baseball and Soccer Academy as well. All students who are full time at Corpus Christi Middle School or FJ Brennan Catholic High School are eligible.

Our venue for the academy portion of our program is at Central Park Athletics. A world class athletic park for our students. We also have 9 classrooms on site so we don't lose any instructional time going from an athletic activity to an academic course or vice versa. The Board transitions the students back to the main campus at lunch.

We have secondary and elementary programming going on simultaneously under the same roof. We brought in skills experts for each respective sport and along with their teachers, the students receive excellent instruction.

This is as much of an academic initiative as it is an athletic one. Our students are fully engaged and the teachers meet them where they currently are using relevant material to further engage them. Ironically, our students do better academically because they understand that this is offer is a privilege and not a right. Sound familiar? I often think about Father Cullen and I know he would be proud of what is happening here with our students. Believe me, there are no academic short cuts and these students are receiving the very best coaching available in the Windsor-Essex area.

I am elated to be a part of this program. Our Director has been an incredible leader through this period and his visions with this initiative truly leaves an incredible legacy.

Kevin Hamlin, Principal

Our hope this that the numbers at Brennan stabilize and that we look at offering academies at strategic points throughout the Board.

In Loving Memory

Multicultural Festival Celebrated at ACS

The 2015 multicultural festival at Assumption was yet another success on May 8. There were over 115 students involved from all grade levels. These students continue the legacy of an ACS tradition of over 25 years.

During education week, students read prayers in their native languages, heard various national anthems, created diversity posters, wore their native costumes for the Mass, and then participated in the festival in the gym on Friday.

There were over 15 booth representations from various countries including Poland, Philippinos, India, Italy, and many others. Each booth sold cultural foods (made by them and their loving wonderful parents), artifacts and trinkets. Staff, parents, previous students, and CEC staff attended the event.

Over seven hundred dollars was donated to the Missions from the proceeds collected. A pizza party was also given as a celebration of appreciation to the students involved. A huge hug goes to Miss Anna Sisti (retired ACS teacher) for all her help with the finances and the pizza party.

Also, Mr. Chiandussi and Mrs. DelDuca Howie for their help during the day.

As a new event added, many students performed a talent show in their own language and presented it during the festival. It was amazing!

This wonderful event just keeps growing, and next year already promises to be even better. Mrs. Sauro and Mrs. Grabka want to express a warm appreciation for all the students, staff, friends and parents who gave their time and effort for this tradition to go on.

The Assumption Jazz and Concert Bands travelled to Nashville and Memphis for the Festival of Music Competition the end of April. Under the direction of Mr. Brian Zanier, the students brought home a First Place, a Second Place and the Excellence and Professional Award.

Together 44 students and 4 Chaperones, took on the 16 hour bus ride to compete, and take on the various local attractions. The Grand 'Ol Opry, Graceland, Country Music Clubs, and even Go-karting. The students enjoyed a very packed and fun-filled 4 days.

These students from Grades 9-12 certainly shared their gifts and talents with others and made Assumption proud.

The music program continues to be a strong presence in the community. Fundraisers will be needed for the next Festival of Music Competition. Mr. Zanier is exploring the possibility of New Orleans for April 2016.

WECSSAA Honours Gary Malloy

Congratulations to our own Gary Malloy, who recently was honoured, after serving the W.E.C.S.S.A.A. track and field community over the part 30 years, with the newly named GARY MALLOY CHAMPIONSHIP, going to the W.E.C.S.S.A.A. Overall Team Track champions. Garry previously coached at Catholic Central High School (1986-93), St. Joseph's High School (1993-2001) and currently coaches at Assumption College (since 2001). He was also the distance coach with the Windsor Legion Track and Field Club for 15 years. He coached 14 WECSSAA Championship teams, six SWOSSAA Championship teams and two OF-SAA Championship teams while at St. Joseph's High School in cross country and track and field.

His love for the sport and students will be greatly missed. We wish him a joyous, well-deserved retirement. God Bless!

Gary Malloy began his teaching career at Our Lady of Lourdes back in 1984, St. John's in 1985, Catholic Central in 1986, then went to St. Joseph's High School for 7 years, before closing out his career at Assumption from 2001 to 2015. For any one who has ever had the privilege of working beside or running after, he has certainly touched many lives. Gary's has always been and will forever be about "the kids." They were always his # 1 priority.

Gary has organized Terry Fox Runs, St. Vincent de Paul, and ACS Can Drives, he has certainly answered his call to serve.

To teach is to touch the lives of many and to help their students learn life's lessons. But to teach well is to make a difference in all the lives of your students.

It has been a honour to work with you Gary. Blessings to you.

Gary Malloy—retires after 25 years. A dedicated teacher and coach.

Senior Girls Basketball—2015

The Senior Girls Basketball team struggled to find victories on the court this year, but found many victories off of it. With a large turnover of players from the previous season, plus the transfer of several key players from our junior program, and along with this major injuries to key players, the season certainly had many hurdles to overcome.

But as Raider athletes typically do, the team stayed the course, learned that putting in your best effort is all that can be done, and they also found that it's not the size of the dog in the fight but the size of the fight in the dog that matters most. A few team parties and an emphasis on having fun and enjoying small victories on the court went a long way to keeping our spirits up. The on-court highlight of the season was certainly our Consolation Championship in the Kingsville Tournament that included an overtime victory in the finals against Tecumseh

Vista.

The coaches and their teammates would like to thank and wish the best of luck to the following graduating players; Anna Sawicki, Via Duterte, Angela Abendanio, Juliana Janosek, Nicole Giacchini, and Danielle DiPasquale. These young ladies represented their school well and as a group showed tremendous leadership and dedication. They will be certainly missed next season!!!

Stirring Images from the First Ever Illustrated Version of Toni Morrison's 'Beloved'

Toni Morrison's Beloved is widely considered the greatest of all American novels published in last quarter of the 20th century, but, until now, it has never been released as an illustrated edition — this despite the effortless magic with which Morrison invokes (or provokes) her images of post bellum black life. Thankfully, The Folio Society has now released a moving, brilliantly illustrated version of Beloved, complete with an introduction by Russell Banks. Morrison chose Banks to write about the novel, and she also selected the novel's gifted illustrator, Joe Morse, whose work you can see below. Flavor wire talked with Mr. Morse about his approach illustrating Morrison's masterpiece.

Illustrations by Joe Morse from The Folio Society edition of Toni Morrison's Beloved.

FW: The project obviously comes from a deep respect and admiration both for Beloved and Toni Morrison's broader oeuvre. Can you talk about your relationship to her work and how this project came about?

JM: There are images you make sometimes that become an important leap forward. In January of 1998, I illustrated a Washington Post book review of Toni Morrison's Paradise. Her writing resonated with me as a visual artist. As she said in an interview, "The author's job is to make spaces for the reader to enter." And through the image I made, in response to her words, I came to see that as one of my goals in making art.

When I was contacted by The Folio Society in early 2014 to illustrate Beloved, I truly had to read the email twice. I have worked on many major projects during my career, but this was beyond belief. My UK agent Kit Killington at Killington Arts had presented my work to FS in the past, and, recently, I have worked on more book projects.

But there was one little matter first... I was told that I needed to create an image for Ms. Morrison's approval to move forward as the artist to work on the book. I had read Beloved in the past, so I read it again and again. I researched the time period, developed character sketches, noted passages that I could visualize, and I decided on an image that, after the acceptance of Toni Morrison, is now the frontispiece of the illustrated edition of Beloved.

FW: I love the way Folio titles the illustrations with short passages from the text. How do you go about choosing the scenes you would like to illustrate?

JM: When I work with a text, I look for the visual images embedded in the words that will support the narrative. I try to build a thread from image to image so that they belong together with the text, rather than appear dropped in like candy. But then there is Beloved: a story based on fact, spun through with history, poetry, horror, love, loss, and a ghost. It can be read on so many levels: how was I supposed to express it in nine paintings? I looked for the threads a great storyteller leaves for the reader, and where they converge to be woven together. There are also beautifully written visual passages in Beloved that should remain in the reader's imagination and not be defined by my brush.

My work is figurative and graphic, with the gesture or form of the body creating it's own physical typography and message. In the book, the characters are shaped by their personal histories and their overlapping relationship to the central figure of Sethe. It soon became clear to me that the images should focus on the strength I could bring to the project, expressing characters at the point when everything changes for them, as they drive or are driven by the narrative.
